

privacy policy

Introduction

The protection of your personal information is something that Alinta Energy takes very seriously. This Policy describes how we manage your personal information in accordance with the Australian Privacy Principles contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) ("Privacy Act"). This Policy represents our policy as at April 2016. From time to time and for any reason we may revise this Policy and our information handling practices. This document will be updated to reflect any changes made and we will publish the revised policy on our website.

Personal information - what information we collect

We primarily collect and hold personal information about you to enable us to provide energy and related services to you, inform you of different product offerings and in order to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations. The kinds of personal information that we collect and hold includes:

- name;
- date of birth;
- address (mailing and supply address);
- telephone and/or mobile number;
- driver's licence details;
- email address (if provided);
- concession details (if applicable);
- bank account or credit card details; and
- credit or repayment history information.

We may also hold personal information that you provide to us about other individuals residing at the service address e.g. your spouse, partner or co-tenant. We rely on you to inform those individuals that their personal information is being provided to us and that they may contact us for further information.

In addition, we also collect and hold information relating to the supply of energy to your supply address including information about your energy consumption, connection and interruptions.

Under the Privacy Act, "sensitive information" includes but is not limited to information or an opinion about an individual's racial or ethnic origin, religious belief, or criminal record and also includes health information about an individual. Generally, we do not collect or hold sensitive information about you. However, in certain circumstances and provided we have obtained your consent or where it is required or authorised by or under an Australian law or court/tribunal order, we may collect and hold health information about you or someone living at your supply address as it relates to providing energy or related services to your supply address. For example, that you or a person residing at your supply address is dependent on life support equipment.

How we collect personal information

We collect personal information in the following ways:

- accepting an offer and/or entering into a contract with us for the supply of energy;
- advanced metering infrastructure (for example smart meter data);
- the operation of our telephone customer contact centre (these calls are recorded and monitored for training, verification and compliance purposes);
- customer survey or market research activities;
- the marketing of our energy products and services;
- your enquiries; and
- our website (including information you enter onto our website). Please see the "Collection of personal information through website activity" for more information.

We may also collect personal information about you from third parties such as electricity and gas distributors, Credit Reporting Bodies (as the term is defined in our Credit Policy), market data research firms, your representatives (e.g spouse or co-tenant) and contractors providing metering and payment / billing services.

We may obtain Credit Reporting Information about you from a Credit Reporting Body (as those terms are defined in our Credit Policy). We use this information to assess your creditworthiness and assist us in making responsible credit decisions. For further details refer to our Credit Policy which is available on our website.

We typically hold the personal information we collect on electronic databases.

Collection of personal information through website activity

We collect the personal information that you enter onto our website (including when you register your user id, when you access your account online, use our enquiry form, sign up for our newsletter or enter a competition on our website). We may also collect non-personally identifiable information (such as your user name, if it is not your actual name, and browser details) or in some circumstances personal information about you when you interact with us online (including when you visit an Alinta Energy hosted web page) or when you mention the brand name "Alinta Energy" or our products via external social media platforms (e.g. Facebook or Twitter). Any personal information that we may collect from social media platforms is determined by the privacy settings of your account within the social media platform (that is, the extent to which your personal information is publicly available on the social media platform) and the content of your post.

Our website includes pages that use Cookies which are small amounts of data sent by our website and other third parties and stored on your computer's hard drive. This allows our servers to recognise your computer when you visit our website in the future. Cookies do not identify you as an individual although they do identify your browser type, the operating system you are using, the web page you visited, your internet service provider and your State location. Alinta Energy's website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. ("Google"). Google Analytics also uses Cookies to help the website analyse how users use the site. The information generated by the Cookie about your use of the website (including your IP address) will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating your use of the website, compiling reports on website activity for website operators and providing other services relating to website activity and internet usage. Google may also transfer this information to third parties where required to do so by law, or where such third parties process the information on Google's behalf. No personal information is collected or transmitted to Google. By using Alinta Energy's website, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above.

You can configure your internet browser to accept all Cookies, reject all Cookies or notify you when a Cookie is sent. If you refuse the use of Cookies in this way you may not be able to see the full functionality of Alinta Energy's website. Please refer to your internet browser's instructions or help screens to learn more about these functions.

To assess the effectiveness of our website design and layout, as well as monitor traffic to the website we may contract with third parties to collect statistical data. However no personal information is collected during this process.

How we use personal information

We collect, hold and use your personal information for our normal business operations and activities, including:

- communicating with you;
- verifying your identity and supply address;
- contracting with you for the sale of energy;
- administering and managing the sale of energy to you including to obtain and provide meter services, issue bills and provide billing services, receive payments and collect debts;
- facilitating responses to your enquiries or complaints;
- conducting credit checks;
